Constant Output 02

February 8, 2023 | DM1143

For my semester-long constant output, I plan on developing my needlework skills. I started learning how to embroider in 2021 when I was at home doing classes online and I picked up cross-stitch over this past winter break.

More recently I feel like I only work on my creative hobbies when I have long breaks from school so I'm choosing to document my embroidery and cross-stitch projects this semester. It's an outlet for stress relief and I hope I will be able to complete a few projects during this course.

To start off, I'll be documenting my first cross-stitch project! I got it in a kit from Michaels and it features a sunset.

This took me 2 hours. My plans to finish multiple projects may need to change – I have a feeling this might take me all semester 😞
